What Are The Benefits of Tax Outsourcing/Co-Sourcing?

Many organizations are faced with the challenge to increase operational efficiency while reducing costs and retaining the personnel they need to be strategic. Fust Charles Chambers has experience in delivering exceptional Integrated Tax Solutions (ITS) that leverages our experience and gives you access to resources, processes and tools developed to help you solve your most common challenges and focus on your organization's strategic priorities.

TOP REASONS

Why an organization may decide to pursue a tax co-sourcing arrangement:

- Turnover / difficulty hiring
- Inability to fulfill strategic priorities due to resource constraints
- Undergoing a merger, acquisition or divestiture/spin-off
- Encountering gaps in tax specialty areas or technology
- Undergoing a tax system implementation or integration
- To reduce time and costs spent on recruiting, training and on-boarding
- Desiring flexibility to scale resources based on fluctuating workloads
- Facing headcount reductions for budgetary or other reasons

Strategies such as co-sourcing and outsourcing can help fill gaps and meet growing demands of the finance function and tax department. With increased complexity in global tax laws, higher turnover and work-from-home workforces, many tax departments are readily turning to outside firms to address their staffing concerns.
